

FORENSIC INVESTIGATOR I

SALARY: $47,843 - $52,937

The Onondaga County Medical Examiner's Office (OCMEO), a NAME-accredited office in Syracuse, New York, is recruiting for a Forensic Investigator I position as it continues to grow as the regional medical examiner's office in Central New York. The office is located in the Center for Forensic Sciences, a modern facility that also houses all the county's forensic laboratories, including DNA, criminalistics, firearms, latents and digital evidence. The office serves Onondaga and surrounding Central New York counties (pop. 985,000). The successful candidate will join four board certified forensic pathologists and other dedicated staff including a director of operations, 6 forensic investigators (ABMDI certified), 5 assistant forensic investigators, 5 autopsy technicians, 2 morgue attendants, and other administrative personnel. In 2014, the OCMEO investigated 2,290 deaths. Of these, 1,044 fell under medical examiner jurisdiction and 388 required scene response.
